Golf Information

THE COURSE

Located at the northern tip of the Gulf of Aqaba, on the Sinai peninsula, Taba Heights offers the area's newest and most prestigious championship golf course. With the dramatic Sinai Mountains providing its backdrop, the course overlooks the azure waters of the Red Sea, offering views of Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Israel.

Designed by John Sanford, a member of the American Society of Golf Course Architects, the 18-hole championship course measures 7100 yards (6.450 m) and is well suited to challenge golfers of all levels. As part of this philosophy, each hole offers the option of five different tee placements, allowing golfers to undergo exciting challenges or remain within their handicap levels.

Golfers can expect many target fairways and approach shots over lakes, flood canals or well surrounded desert green complexes. The course offers elevation ranging from 4 to 70 meters. This striking landscape is what makes the course so beautiful; and what has prompted the management's decision to make mandatory the use of electric golf carts at all times.

The first hole gently eases toward the vast mountain range which sets the scene for the first six holes. The sixth hole, in particular is a long uphill Par 5 with three separate playing areas. Those brave enough to battle the flood canal may be rewarded with birdie. From the seventh tee the course meanders through desert and rocks back down to the splashing waves of the Red Sea. The short Par 3 eighth hole again crosses the desert and flood canal and features the largest bunker on the course.

Hole 12 is cradled by the mountains and is a feature of the back nine, challenging guests with careful placement of ten bunkers and at 640 yards the monstrous 14th is the longest championship hole in Egypt. The green of 17 and the tee of 18 lie less than a small pitch from the water's edge where our resident camel lies as a spectator for your final drive.

Taba Heights Holiday & Golf Resort is owned by Orascom Hotels & Development. The Group is one of the largest and most successful conglomerates in Egypt and the Middle East with more than 20.000 employees in five major companies leading in areas of tourism, development, construction and telecommunications.
